ASX ANNOUNCEMENT

NETLINKZ APPOINTS DEPUTY CHAIRMAN TO SUPPORT GROWTH PLANS

Netlinkz Limited (ASX:NET) is pleased to announce the appointment of former Arab Bank Australia Chief Executive Officer (CEO), James Wakim as a Director of the business and the company's new Deputy Chairman from February 1, 2017.

Mr Wakim began his career with the National Australia Bank and Barclays Bank before helping to establish Arab Bank Australia, which he led as General Manager for five years and CEO and MD for a further 10 years, before stepping down in 2010.

Netlinkz Executive Chairman, James Tsiolis welcomed the appointment, "James brings a wealth of expertise and experience to the Netlinkz Board along with strong international networks which we hope to leverage to support the business' growth aspirations in 2017 and beyond.

"Netlinkz's unique technology has strong applications for the global financial services industry and we expect that James' standing and experience within that sector will help guide Netlinkz's strategy in that regard.

"The company's leadership team and Board are passionate about constant investment into furthering Netlinkz's dynamic and creative working culture and as a past winner of both boss and employer of the year awards, James is very much aligned with that vision," said James Tsiolis.

Mr Wakim is currently a Director of a private technology business, Seachange Technology Holdings, Westmead Children's Medical Research Institute, FSHD Global Research Foundation and the Marie Bashir Institute for Infectious Diseases and Bio Security at Sydney University.

He is a graduate of the Stanford University Graduate School of Business, Executive Management Program, a Fellow of the Australian Institute of Company Directors and Senior fellow of the Financial Services Institute of Australasia.
